BOXES OPENED IN THEATER BASEMENT

Hotel Robbers Leave Railroad Ticket and Some of the Jewelry.

The Angelus hotel robbers opened the 13 deposit boxes taken from the hotel office safe in the Thursday morning robbery, in the basement dressing room of H. H. Linton in the Crawford theater, where Mr. Linton is playing with the Bittner Stock company. The boxes were found Thursday afternoon, also the return ticket to New York of J. F. Burns, of the New York Evening Mail, which was taken from the cash drawer. All jewelry belonging to Dr. and Mrs. Richmond, which was in two of the boxes, was also recovered, as the robbers evidently thought it might lead to their detection.

The boxes appeared, one each of H. K. Holman, and W. W. Bittner, those who had valuables in the other boxes or other valuables in the boxes without notifying the cashier. The register book of the hotel states that valuables must be deposited before the hotel assumes responsibility.

With the exception of the ownership of four of the boxes, including two of Dr. and Mrs. Richmond, one each of H. K. Holman, and W. W. Bittner, those who had valuables in the other boxes were not known, according to the announcement Friday morning by the hotel management. Following the news of the robbery, a number who have boxes in the safe called and made sure they had not been robbed. A diamond ring valued at $275 was lost by C. F. Knoblauch, who, with H. K. Holman, is a partner in the hotel. Two stick pins owned by Mr. Knoblauch were left with the boxes in the Crawford theater basement. He is wearing both of them today.

HERALD FINDS GIRL GOOD HOME QUICKLY

Sunshine Society Day Nursery Is Now Ready for Operations.

The Sunshine society believes The Herald readers will be interested to learn that the little girl 13 years of age who wanted a home, received no less than ten opportunities Saturday evening, only a few hours after the notice appeared in The Herald, and that she is now pleasantly located with kind hearted people.

The Sunshine day nursery situated at 408 South Ochoa street, is ready to begin its helpful work.

The good news may be widely circulated among the Mexican servant class if the women will only speak to their maids of the opportunity which the nursery affords poor women who desire to be employed but who have children too small to leave at home; so that they may take their little ones to the nursery in the morning and call for them when their day's work is ended. Not only will the children be well cared for, but suggestions and assistance will be given mothers who are desirous of learning how to better living conditions for their families.

Not more than 24 children can be cared for each day, at present, and American needs will be considered whenever applications are made.

Many articles are wanted for the day nursery, including sheets, pillow cases, cloth, bed spreads in good or worn condition, old blankets, drinking cups, children's chairs, toys and books. Pictures of subjects appropriate for the nursery would brighten, cheer and add interest.

Donations may be sent direct to 408 South Ochoa street.

ALPINE IS WORKING FOR ANOTHER ROAD

Barrickman Resigns Commercial Club Secretaryship Before Starting Work.

Alpine, Tex., Jan. 4.—President Carville, of the Pecos Valley Southern railway, has intimated to the business community of Alpine that this place can secure his road if reasonable inducements are offered. Is a communication to the Alpine Business Men's club he states that the road will soon be built to a connection with the Southern Pacific, and Alpine is the preferred point of junction.

The Pecos Valley-Southern is now built and running daily trains from Pecos to Balmorhea. President Carville writes that the road is now ready to proceed southward, and, if Alpine will offer proper inducements, will at once begin building and will contract to begin running trains into Alpine by July 1 of the present year.

One large land owner says he will give 150 acres in the suburbs for depot grounds for the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient, and $8 acres for the same purpose to the Pecos Valley Southern. A number of wealthy citizens have already intimated a willingness to contribute to a bonus for the last named road.

W. C. Barrickman, who had been engaged for the position of secretary of the Alpine Business Men's club, wired his resignation from Dallas, having accepted the post of secretary of the Texas Commercial congress, with headquarters at Dallas.
